a message from Jim Feeney, Town Manager

Whether you live, work, or play here, there is plenty to do in Arlington. With diverse cultural resources, a thriving arts scene, and a variety of locally owned retail shops and restaurants, Arlington is a destination that has something to offer everyone.

Located directly west of Cambridge, MA, Arlington's proximity to our region's world-renowned educational, medical, and innovation industries keeps us on the leading edge while retaining the scale and charm of a small town.

Arlington is a suburban hub of arts and culture, and our Revolutionary War history links us to neighboring Lexington, Concord, and Lincoln. Cultural assets like the Minuteman Bikeway, the Old Schwamb Mill, and the Arlington Cultural District reflect how the town and its residents value its historical, natural, and cultural resources.

The Town is committed to the success of our business community, and will continue to meet the needs of our local business owners representing the restaurant, retail, industrial, and technology sectors. We are driven by a customer service oriented approach to small business development, and we will continue to assist businesses looking to locate themselves here by making the permitting and licensing processes as easy as possible.

I hope that you find this packet to be a helpful resource for doing business in and with the town of Arlington.

Sincerely,

Jim Feeney
Town Manager

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

The information provided in this packet provides basic steps on how to open a business in Arlington and to give a broad overview of permitting and processes in the town of Arlington. Not every aspect will be applicable to you and your business.

Before you sign a lease on an office, retail or commercial space review the zoning bylaws for allowable uses or contact the Inspectional Services Department (ISD) to ensure that your intended use is allowed for a particular space under the Town Zoning Bylaws. Zoning is a set of rules and regulations created by the town that describes what uses are and are not allowed. If you need to ask for relief from the Zoning Bylaws the Inspectional Services Department will help you apply for a special permit.

Make sure to confirm that your business is equipped with a business plan, a business structure, has the appropriate professional licenses and is prepared for your business tax obligations and responsibilities. You can consult the Executive Office of Economic Development Small Business Guidance to determine what is best for you and your business.

Arlington is also fortunate to have an active chamber of commerce. The Arlington Chamber offers opportunities for marketing, promotion, and networking. We encourage you to reach out and connect with the resources they have to offer.

What is...

Inspectional Services Division (ISD) ?

This Division includes the town's Building, Electric, Plumbing, and Zoning Departments.

At just 5 sq. miles, Arlington is a dense community with three "Main Street" business districts: Arlington Heights, Arlington Center, and East Arlington. Down the street from world renowned universities and the innovation hubs of Boston, Arlington provides an affordable option close to the action of the state's capital. As the starting point of the Minuteman Bikeway, Arlington is the perfect location for leisure cyclists or those looking to commute by bike into Cambridge, Somerville or Lexington. Take advantage of the close proximity to Cambridge and Somerville's incredible food, arts and culture scene which Arlington borders. On the other sides of Arlington are the towns of Winchester, Lexington, and Belmont. These towns rank among the highest in Massachusetts for per capita income.

ARLINGTON'S BUSINESS DISTRICTS

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Arlington Heights is at the western end of town. Skirted by the Minuteman Bikeway, the Heights has restaurants, cafes, pubs, specialty retailers and many family owned businesses. An active community association has poured their hearts and souls into making the Heights a beautiful and vibrant neighborhood.

ARLINGTON CENTER

Arlington Center is the town's central business district and the western portion of the Arlington Cultural District. With dozens of restaurants, retailers, two museums, the Regent Theatre and historic features, there is always something to do in the center. The neighborhood is at the heart of the Minuteman Bikeway and is home to both Arlington High School and Arlington Catholic High School.

EAST ARLINGTON

East Arlington is the eastern portion of the Arlington Cultural District. Home to the Capitol Theatre, several arts-focused retailers, excellent restaurants, galleries and the town's only hotel. With the Minuteman Bikeway running parallel to Mass Ave and surrounded by a dense residential neighborhood, it is accessible by car, bike, public transit, and on foot.

Choosing a location – is your intended use allowed?

Once you have found an appropriate retail, commercial, office or industrial space it is your responsibility to check that your intended use is allowed according to the Town Zoning Bylaw.

Understand that your business use is either:

- Permitted by right, which requires no zoning relief;
- Permitted through the grant of a Special Permit by the Arlington Redevelopment Board (ARB) or Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) after demonstrating that certain specified conditions can be met; or
- Not allowed by the Zoning Bylaw. (Note that use variances are extremely rare; if your business use is not allowed in a particular zoning district, we recommend that you seek an alternative location in a district which does allow the use.)

Owners seeking to rent, purchase, or renovate an existing commercial space or build a new building should contact the Inspectional Services Department (ISD) or Economic Development early in their site selection process in order to determine whether their proposed business can be located as of right. If it is necessary to apply for a special permit or seek a variance, the prospective business owner should initiate the application at the earliest possible time, as the process can take several months.

Further information on the Town's Zoning Bylaw can be obtained by contacting DPCD or ISD or viewing the Zoning Bylaw online.

What is zoning? Why does it exist?

Zoning is a set of rules and regulations created by the town that describes what uses are and are not allowed. Is it a way for towns to control the type of development, preservation of open space and recreation, population density, and the intensity of different uses.

Application for Certificate of Occupancy/Use

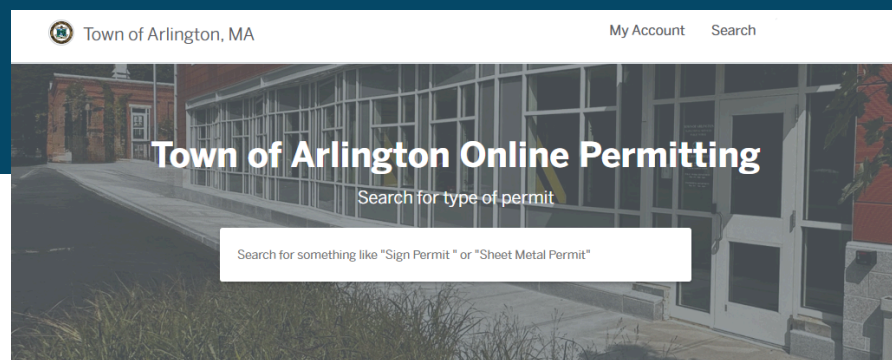

Apply for building, sign, plumbing, gas, and wiring permits through Inspectional Services. The Inspectional Services Department will refer you to DPCD if you need to obtain a Special Permit from the Arlington Redevelopment Board.

Even if you are not doing any construction you will still need to obtain a Certificate of Occupancy via the online permitting portal.

A Certificate of Occupancy is a document issued by our building department certifying a building's compliance with applicable building codes and to confirm that your desired use is allowed by our zoning bylaws. This is done for everyone's safety.

Are you completing any renovations?

Apply for permit(s) with the Inspectional Services Division (ISD). They issue Building, Plumbing, Gas, Electric, Dumpster/Pod and Sign permits. All ISD permits are now completed online at arlingtonma.portal.opengov.com.

Arlington's Commercial Orange Bag Program for Small Business Recycling and Trash

What is this?

This is a Pay-As-You-Throw program, so you pay for the amount of trash you create. The cost is $2.30 per 32 gallon bag, and sold in rolls of 10 bags for $23.00. All trash must be inside the orange bags at the curb. Orange bags can be put out at the curb between 6-7 AM on the day of your collection. Recycling collection is included with this program.

How can I sign up?

Call Recycling Coordinator, Charlotte Milan to find out if your business is eligible for this program, 781-316-3108. Once registered, businesses may purchase commercial orange bags at Shattuck Ace Hardware stores. Refer to Massachusetts Waste Disposal Ban laws for prohibited trash items. Keeping recyclable materials out of the trash is required of all residents and businesses, per state law. Therefore, at this time there is no charge for recycling when it is placed, correctly, next to commercial orange bags. Use a blue reusable container to hold your recycling, and help prevent litter in our community by using a larger enough container to hold your recycling on windy days.

Compost

Check our Feed FiDO, our free drop off pilot program. FiDO has two publicly accessible locations. FiDO (which stands for Food scrap Drop Off) accepts only vegetarian food scraps—please do not include animal products.

Alternatively, three private companies are permitted to haul food scraps in Town: Black Earth Compost, Bootstrap Compost, and City Compost.
